global agricultural production must grow by 70 percent by 2050 to feed an additional 2.3 billion people